

We've been getting hit with this a lot lately.

Guys ordering Power Commanders from sources such as FuelMoto and others claiming they will install a map for their application before sending out the unit. Ironically one person had said they ordered a PCV from them and it wasn't running right, I asked what their combination was, he listed his parts. I said how did they get a map for that, I just released 2 of those items and I know Fuelmoto didnt order them from me, so I'm sure they didnt install them on a bike and build a map before I did... So bottom line is YES they will install a map, it just may not be correct to your needs.
